Foreword

This has been a year of headlines—some of somber cast, others of a lighter nature. In this, the 1944 Centralian, we have attempted to portray your school as it is reflected in the headlines—as each day sees another link forged in the chain of events that makes a high school in a world at war.

In a nation armed and fighting for her creeds, her way of life, school assumes a new and entirely different significance. Here among us are born the hopes, the inspirations of tomorrow, and from her oftentimes go the soldiers of today. To the values that call for courage and sacrifice, to the American spirit as represented in and around Central, this book is dedicated.

DEADLY

NES

Helen Rogers

You who leave us this year have spent most of your high school life in an atmosphere of stress and strain in a fearful global war. We know you must go out to meet conditions such as no other similar group has ever faced. Last year's uncertainties have changed into grim, pressing needs. Colleges, stores, offices, factories—all call to you to give your aid at once. A few must enter immediately into the deadly business of war.

Whatever field you enter, there is no place for slackers. The war must be won. You must help to your utmost. Wherever you go, we who have tried to prepare you fervently hope you will prove your worth by the service you render to your country in this time of tremendous need.

God grant that peace may come soon, to give you opportunity for life, for liberty, for happiness in a free land.

O. F. DUBACH

I do not know the name of the author of the following statement, but I offer it to you as a great truth, "If we never need the things we learn, nothing is lost, but if we never learn the things we need, all is lost." Today there are many jobs and few workers; tomorrow there will be many workers and few jobs. Competition for these jobs will be so keen that only the best trained will succeed. Today there are many ways by which a young man or young woman may continue an education. The young man who is enlisting in the fighting forces should by all means avail himself of the fine opportunities offered by the government. His future success will be determined by the training he is receiving now.

Retiring Teachers

Mr. Benjamin F. Chambers, a Central graduate, returned to join the English department in 1918. In 1924, when the English curriculum was reorganized, he took over extra work in connection with the library phase. Aside from his duties in the English department, he was coach for the tennis and baseball teams.

In 1921 Mr. E. A. Harley came to Central to establish the first print shop in Kansas City's public schools. Formerly, he had his own shop in the city's business district. His school print shop was outstanding, and since its beginning print shops have been added to many other schools in the system. He also edited and published the Graphic Arts Magazine, sponsored by the Graphic Art Club, which he organized.

Mr. F. J. Kirker, who in 1908 came to Central to initiate commercial subjects into the school's course of studies, became a member of the teaching staff at Junior College in 1915. Before the war he organized teachers throughout the country to travel to the West and Canada to take study courses at different colleges and universities in these regions. In the fall of 1940 he returned to Central for part-time teaching.

Miss Dora Pyle came from Manual Training High in 1918 to teach mathematics at Central. Having a great fondness for new sights and scenery, she spent a year in traveling about the world. During this time she spent a great deal of time in China with her sister, who was in charge of a girls' school there. With the exception of this one year spent in traveling, she wholeheartedly gave her time and energy to the teaching of Central students.

Mr. E. E. Rush was added to the list of faculty names when he came in 1896 to teach history and civics. For 20 years he was chairman of the social science studies and also actively engaged for many years as a lecturer in the Kansas City School of Law.

Mr. T. E. Talmadge came to Central from a special school in 1909 to assist in commercial work which had recently been added to the school's study curriculum. He trained many Central students for office work and for many years had charge of finances pertaining to the school's extra-curriculum activities.

On behalf of the student body and the faculty, the Centralian staff extends to these former teachers of Central High School a deep appreciation of their accomplishments and helpful contributions toward a higher standard of living for future Americans in a democratic society.

Helen Rogers

The school year 1943-44, remember? That was the year of headlines, some full of solemnity and sober thought; others with fun, hilarity. Yes, the outside world seemed so unstable, but here in Central our own small world kept right on moving much the same, with only a faster tempo marking the changing times.

A check in September showed an enrollment of 1,658. Once more, Central was alive with students—frightened sophomores, the forgotten man (otherwise known as the juniors), and the dignified and world-weary seniors.

The usual hectic fall rush began as the gridiron season opened. Cheered on by the lusty yells of the spectators and spirited marches and drills of the band, the Eagles clashed with other schools for top place in the League. Soon enough there came December, bringing with it Variety Night.

Mid-year grades were the most important things for a while. Pledge day brought new talent and material for all "lit" societies, and rough and rocky was the following week. (Just ask any pledge!)

Spring arrived and with it came "Pride and Prejudice," the Hop, Intersociety, spring fever, and the return of some "re-e-eely sharp" name bands to the commonly acknowledged local stamping grounds, the Auditorium. Seniors have held final class meetings and sent their invitations. Now everyone is caught in the mad whirl of signing parties and the grind of finals.

Those of us who leave Central this spring have all the regrets of other seniors, no more "pepsi" dates at the Friendly's, no assemblies, elections, honors. But with our world at war, careers and other future plans are much more significant. With a high school background, girl and boy graduates alike are going out to fight for liberty and freedom in a shattered universe. What headline of 1944 could be more important?

Sergeant Carl Spikes
Cadet Major Ralph Burbridge

With wartime preparedness as keynote, Central's R. O. T. C. battalion marched through one of its most vigorous and successful years.

Due to a particularly large increase in the number of cadets, five companies were first formed instead of the usual four. However, owing to the mid-year graduation it became necessary to dissolve the fifth and redistribute its members among the remaining.

The battalion staff consisted this year of commander, Cadet Major Ralph Burbridge, ably assisted by the battalion adjutant, Cadet Captain Charles McGinnis, and the sergeant major, Robert Lloyd. Cadet Captains Robert Faulk, Leo French, Jack McGovney and Roland Rhodes held the positions of commanders of A, B, C and D companies, respectively, while Cadet First Lieutenants Lawrence Botkin and Frank Scott and Second Lieutenants William Baker, Lloyd Hader, Richard Hartzler, Jack Hartman, John Jacobson, Robert Leininger and Thomas Orth competently completed the staff of officers.

In the way of achievements, one of the most important events of the year was the winning of third place in the Intercity Match by the Blue Eagle rifle team. The cup was personally presented to the group by Lt. Colonel Bondy, P. M. S. & T., in a special R. O. T. C. assembly. Aside from this, each team member was awarded a medal and those whose score was sufficiently high received special qualification ribbons. Captained by Cadet Robert Faulk, the team consisted of Cadets Lawrence Botkin,

Michael Calcara, Albert Gumminger, Jack McGovney and Joseph Vogel.

A great deal of stress has been placed on rifle marksmanship this year. In addition to his regular theoretical work, every cadet was required to pass the practical exercises, including the sighting bar, sling adjustments and positions. As a final test, all were required to fire on the range.

Quite an amount of excitement was caused by the long rumored and anxiously awaited arrival of Lee-Enfield rifles, which had come to replace the wooden victory rifle, hastily adopted when the Springfields, with which the battalion had been equipped, were called back by the army. In anticipation of their coming, a storehouse had been especially built.

Though the cadets of Central view R. O. T. C. seriously, their life is not entirely devoid of humor. For the first time the battalion invaded the school's regular "Variety Night" production, turning out to be the hit of the show in their adaptation of a scene from the currently popular satire on army life, "See Here, Private Hargrove." It was evident that Captain Bob Faulk showed a natural talent in his characterization of the "gold-bricking" army misfit, Hargrove. Others in the cast included Cadets Lawrence Botkin, Donald Haley, Robert Leininger, Charles McGinnis, Jack McGovney, David Miller and Frank Scott.

Though the annual R. O. T. C. Circus had to be given up as a wartime measure, the battalion held its customary hop, and though faced with a great many restrictions, it was a huge success.

In Memoriam

Helen Hefter

Students and teachers alike were shocked January 22 to learn that their friend, Helen Hefter, had passed away after a prolonged illness. Thus, when Helen died, her friends came to realize one thing—that in her quiet, unobtrusive way, she had left a sweet, indelible impression upon their memory. Admired for her ability, loved for her sincerity of heart, Helen made wide friendships, as her many scholastic honors attest.

Death came to her in the 16th spring of a life completely unblemished by a selfish thought. The graciousness and devotion to her companions which guided her every action made her indeed a friend to be revered.

Being a senior, Helen was looking forward to commencement in June. Her life was both full and happy, but she gave as much as she received. For the richness of her character and the generous quality of her service, her memory will be forever green in the hearts of all who knew her.

Mary Diersen

It is unfortunately too often true that one among us must be taken away before we can fully appreciate her virtues. Although frail in body, her predominantly strong spirit carried Mary through her losing battle for life.

The young girl of fifteen would have been a junior, but was finally forced to stop school early in the school year of 1942. She then spent the greater part of another year in the hospital before death took her.

Mary was an excellent student, and her girlish trustfulness, geniality and genuine humanity had earlier made her a treasured favorite of many faculty members.

Her friends will long remember Mary for her sterling quality of character. Hers was the type of young person that is dignified, yet friendly; quiet, though enthusiastic; unobtrusive, yet influential.

To Central

Dear old Central, far-famed Central,
Thou shalt never fail;
Round thy name there clings a tendril
Of tradition's tale.

CHORUS

Thou art victor; fame has followed,
Clad in dignity;
May thy name to all be hallowed
By our love for thee.

Every student soon or later
In his walk of life
Greets the thought of Alma Mater
As his strength in strife.

Sparked with five returning lettermen, the Central Blue Eagles were strong contenders for the Interscholastic League crown. They won six games, lost one, and tied one, to finish half a game out of first place.

In the first game of the season Central defeated her old rival, Wyandotte, for the first time in eight years. Bill Sidebotham, Eagle full back, scored the only touchdown of the game, to give Central a 6 to 0 victory.

Previous seasons found that night games attracted larger crowds; therefore the high school teams were granted the privilege of playing at Ruppert Stadium. This not only made it better for the players, but it also made an ideal situation for the spectators, as they had good seats and a well-lighted field.

The first league game of the season, Central met the Northeast Vikings and went down in defeat at the hands of this powerful team. Nine lettermen and a faster squad which had had much more experience were responsible for Central's only loss of the season. While Central was held scoreless, Northeast pushed over for 13 points. This game proved to be the one that kept Central from winning the championship.

The next week the Blue Eagles came back fighting, determined to push over the Paseo Pirates. With Central's fine line holding the Pirates scoreless, and the hard running of Central's backfield, the Blue Eagles scuttled the Pirates to win 14 to 0.

Then Central went on to face and defeat the Southwest Indians by a score of 19 to 6, to avenge last year's defeat by the Indians. On Central's first play, Sidebotham went 45 yards for the Blue Eagles' first tally. Later in the game he received a punt and galloped 92 yards behind fine blocking for a touchdown, registering one of the longest runs of the season.

Continuing in a win column, the Eagles went on to defeat a hard-fighting Westport team by the close margin of 13 to 12. Passes played an important part in this game, and both teams completed many. It was in this game that Westport introduced its spread formation, which baffled the Blue Eagles and gave them plenty of trouble.

The following week Central journeyed to Kansas to face the high-scoring Ward Cyclones. Battling hard throughout the entire game, neither team could be sure of a victory until the final gun, for it was in the closing minutes that Central came up and knotted the score 19 all. The combined hard running and driving of Prudden and Sidebotham enabled the Blue Eagles to match the Cyclones, touchdown for touchdown.

On a 14 to 0 count, Central's Blue Eagles defeated the Southeast Knights. It was the fourth victory in a row for the Kingbirds. With Central's line playing a fine defensive game, the Knights were unable to score throughout the entire game, and never came within 20 yards of pushing one over.

In the final game of the season, which had been postponed because of the weather, the Eagles came through to triumph over the East Bears to the tune of 13 to 7. It was a thrill-packed game, which found the Eagles scoring from the opening kick-off. All the scoring was done during the first half, the last half becoming a see-saw battle, with both lines holding marvelously.

Central's final victory enabled them to capture second place, only half a game behind the champions, Northeast. Had Northeast lost one game instead of tying it, Central would have tied for the championship.

At the close of the season, Bill Sidebotham, fullback, and Bill Haynie, tackle, were honored to be named on the All-Star Team for the second consecutive year. Also named to the All-Star Team was Al Wilcox, Central's center. Named to the second team All-Stars were Fred Prudden, halfback, and Gordon Whitacre, guard. Guard Jim Westlake and Central's two ends, Myrl Scofield and Roy Hanks, were placed on the honorable mention list.

Basketball

Glancing back over the '44 season, we find the fighting Blue Eagles gave a good account of themselves in the League and non-League games. With only two returning lettermen, Scofield and Prudden, Central's chances of winning the championship were slim. But they were determined to give every team a battle.

Opening the season against the De LaSalle Cadets, the Blue Eagles proved their fighting spirit by matching the favored Cadets, basket for basket, but lost the game by the slim margin of one point, 27 to 26. Scofield and Storer paced the Blue Eagles with 10 and 8 points, respectively.

The following night the Blue Eagles met the Lillis Cagers on the Catholic League champions' court. The entire game was in the Eagles favor, and they were the only team in Kansas City to defeat the Lillis five this year. The final score of the game was 27 to 16 in favor of Central.

A week later, the Blue Eagles invaded Kansas territory to meet the strong Bulldogs from Wyandotte. The Kansans lost no time in forging ahead of Central, and their great defense held Central to only nine points throughout the game, while they pumped in 30.

The following week, Central returned to its own court, there to be faced by the William Chrisman boys from Independence. The boys played hard and fast and were paced by Bob Hemenway, who dropped in 13 points to enable the Blue Eagles to defeat Chrisman 33 to 22.

The Interscholastic League started but due to the Big War Bond Drive that was being held at the Municipal Auditorium, the first two rounds of games were played at the Mason Halpin Field House at Rockhurst.

The first foe for Central was Northeast. The Northeast Vikings took the lead, and Central's Blue Eagles could never quite overtake them, although they came close many times. The games ended with the Vikings on the big end of a 21 to 17 score. However, Northeast later forfeited the game due to a technicality pertaining to one of their players.

In the second league game of the season, the Blue Eagles met the small but fast East High School team. It was a nip and tuck battle all the way, with the Bears edging out the Blue Eagles in the final minutes of play. The final score: East 28, Central 21.

Next, facing the Crimson five from Manual, the Eagles found in them an opponent with deadly accuracy and ball handling ability. They fought hard all the way but could not overcome the Iron Men, who played championship ball. The score: Manual 43, Central 31.

Next on the docket were the Westport Tigers. It was a hard fought game, but Westport's superior height was too much for the Blue Eagles, as they were defeated by the Tigers to the tune of 33 to 23.

By beating the Southeast Knights the next week, the Blue and White won their first League game other than their forfeited victory over Northeast. Playing hard and fast, Central quickly built up a lead and maintained it throughout the entire game to down the Knights 40 to 35.

Once again the Blue Eagles invaded Kansas territory, this time to face the Ward Cyclones. Central held the lead for the first three quarters. Ward, however, unleashed a last quarter rally to overcome the hard fighting Blue Eagles by the close margin of 27 to 24.

Facing the Paseo Pirates, the defending champions, the Blue Eagles amassed a total of 30 points in the first half and came back in the last half to score 17 more points and scuttle the Paseo Pirates by the score of 47 to 36. This score was only 4 points shy of the League record.

In the final League tilt of the season, the Blue Eagles met the Southwest Indians. Although Central stayed close and tied them 26 to 26 in the third quarter of the game, the Indians opened up with a last quarter attack which the Blue Eagles could not stem and walked off the court the conquerors of a hard fighting Central team.

The season ended with Central in a fifth place tie. Myrl Scofield, Guard, and Dan Hammontree, Center, received Honorable Mention on the All-Star Team.

In the school, Coach Frank Guemple presented, at a special assembly, letters to nine players making up the starting team. Myrl Scofield and Fred Prudden were chosen as co-captains of the '44 team by their teammates.

Track

Getting off to a good start in the '44 season, the Central tracksters went out and captured their first two meets by impressive scores over Northeast and Southeast. The following week found the Eagles being nosed out by the East Bears by the close score of 46 to 45.

The Southeast meet brought together in the century dash Bill Sidebotham of Central and Kent Evans of the Knights, who were rivals in the 100 and 220-yard dashes last year. In the 100 it was Evans who forged ahead of Sidebotham to break the tape half a step ahead of him. In the 220, however, Sidebotham came back to overcome the favored Evans by a good margin. The pole vault brought together Guthrie of Central and Red Spaeth of Southeast, who were also rivals last year.

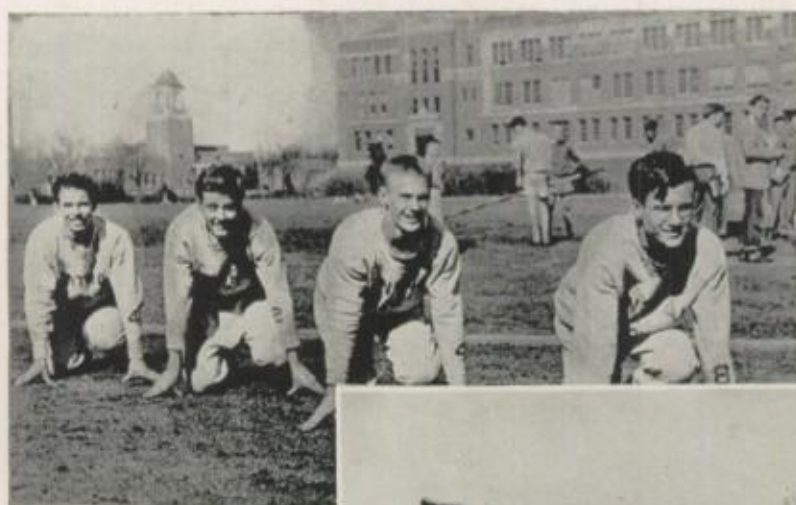

Spaeth won the event with a vault of 10' 6", which was a good height, considering the muddy condition of the track. Although the meet was held on a rainy and muddy track, some good timings were turned in by members of both teams.

The East meet was very close and was not decided until the final event. Special recognition should be given to Bob Hemenway, fine broad jumper and dash man, who, during the relay, pulled a muscle in his leg, but continued under great pain to finish his share of the race and maintain the lead that was given him.

In the coming state and city meets, Central will be well represented in all events. In the high hurdles there will be Julian Snow and Fred Prudden, both returning lettermen from last year's team. In the hundred-yard dash there will be the Eagles' two speedsters, Bill Sidebotham and Bob Hemenway, while in the 220 it will be Sidebotham and Bill Best. In the city meet, Sidebotham is favored to win points in both of these events and will offer keen competition in the state meet. Bob Hemenway will be representing Central in the low hurdles. Bernard Carey, newcomer to track this year, has shown fine ability in running the 440-yard dash so far this year, and much is expected of him in the city meet. Running with Carey in the 440 will be Bob Thompson and Bob Merrill. In the 880-yard run, Central fans will be expecting a good showing from their two runners, Jim Smith and Don Fitzhugh, a letterman from last year. In all of the field events, Central's chances are good, as they will be well represented by Fred Prudden and Bud Finnell in high jump, Bob Hemenway and Bob Peters in broad jump, and Bob Guthrie, Loren Chapman and Gene Furnish in pole vault. A dangerous threat will be Central's relay team, consisting of Best, Furnish, Hemenway and Sidebotham.

Due to the necessity of going to press early, we will not be able to report the outcome of the city meet. But previous dual meets can give us a pretty good idea of who the city champion will be. It will rest between Central, East and Northeast, who have many outstanding tracksters. These three teams have all had an impressive season.

The bad weather we had throughout the track season influenced the outcome of many of the dual meets. The condition of the track will be a deciding factor in the city meet.

Golf and Tennis

Mr. Blackford, B. Weatherholt, A. Shields,
W. Jones, D. Higgins, B. Beiser

Captain Bob Biser, Warren Jones, Allan Shields, Don Higgins and Bob Weatherholt won the right to represent Central's golf team in the tournaments this year. After the first two rounds of play, Central found itself in last place. The squad improved rapidly, however, as the season continued, and Central moved up into third place in the final three rounds of play of the fall tournament. Champion of the fall tournament was Southwest, with Southeast in second place. Due to the necessity of going to press early, we will not be able to report the results of the spring tournament, which will be held at Swope Park. Mr. Blackford, coach of the golf team, is expecting fine things, as all of the above boys will be competing and will strengthen Central's chances of a championship.

Central's tennis team, coached by Mr. Nolan Alexander, was selected from an inexperienced squad. In the first round of play Richard Harris won his singles match against Paseo. Dan Hammontree, teaming with Lawrence Jaben, in the first match eliminated Westport; however, in the second round of play both Harris and the combination of Hammontree and Jaben were defeated by Southwest, who went on to win the championship.

VOLLEYBALL MANAGER: Joann Beamer

This year the physical education program of the girls at Central was one of the finest they have ever had.

Sportsmanship and hard work were the keynotes. At Sport Days, Central lost and won, but through it all the true-blue Central spirit prevailed.

Hockey, volleyball, basketball, table tennis, badminton and tennis were enthusiastically received, and the student managers aided immeasurably through their cooperation.

Miss Hazel Purnell and Miss Ruth Buchanan were not only fine instructors, but their encouragement helped the girls to attain higher goals.

Central should indeed be proud of the Girls' Physical Education Department.

Action

Student Council

Due to the hearty backing of the school, this past year has been an extremely successful one for the student governing body.

Under the able leadership of Mr. G. R. Watson, this cross-section of student life has expanded its functions to embrace every activity and department of Central, and room 13 has become the central meeting place of the school for the consideration of important issues that demand attention. Not only was this group concerned with Central's problems, but representatives were sent to other city high schools to observe and report how their methods for student government progressed.

The officers for this year's first term council were: Dale Eriksen, president; Gerry Beeler, vice-president; Beverly Hammer, secretary; Leland Johnson, sergeant-at-arms; and Jim Petersen, critic.

At the half-year the council again elected officers. The second term officers were: Jim Petersen, president; Bill Kamm, vice-president; Shirley Crain, secretary; Norma Thoes, sergeant-at-arms; and Maxine Critz, critic.

The American Junior Red Cross is the largest youth organization in the world. The Kansas City chapter is one of the most outstanding in the country, and Central is one of the leading schools in the chapter.

This year has been a banner year for all Red Cross activities at Central. The whole student body has given its hearty cooperation to all the projects of the Junior Red Cross. In October we gave $144.47 to the National Children's Fund, which is used to provide shelter, food, clothing and medical care for refugee children. We prepared forty-five Christmas gift boxes for the veterans at Excelsior Springs. Individual students have worked on publicity and radio scripts, as staff assistants, and in surgical dressings.

As a Home Service project, the Junior Red Cross has undertaken the preparation of Central's Service Record. There are now over twenty-one hundred names of Central graduates and former students in the service of our country.

All year long, the students of the Art, Homemaking and Woodworking departments have worked on the production of articles for the pleasure and comfort of our service men.

The climax of our year's activities came with the annual drive in March. Central's very fine contribution to this war fund was $1,210. We are grateful to the faculty and the student body for their splendid cooperation in the work of this great organization.

Senior Prophecy

Senior Prophecy . . .

Ye Roving Reporter has run into quite a few of his old classmates lately while out nosing for news. Always an outstanding class, the graduates of '44 have accomplished several noteworthy things since their graduation twenty years ago.

It was found that the old class president, Gerry Beeler, is now a happy housewife and is the proud mother of twins . . . Norma Thoes is well contented with her job of educating the younger generation. She is a kindergarten teacher . . . 'nough said.

The new editor of "Glamour" is none other than Maxine Critz . . . Red-haired Bev Hammer is the business manager, while Johnny Jacobsen is taking picture portraits for the magazine.

At the age of 35, Frank Scott is still playing Donald O'Connor's roles . . . Bill Mead, nationally known sports commentator, has been having laryngitis and is now under the care of R. N. (short for registered nurse) Shirley Risley at the "Lakeside Hospital" . . . He told us that Gene Furnish and Ebba Lee Lindell are now co-football coaches at Yale University.

Chosen one of the year's ten best dressed men, Claude Horning is now the owner of Broadway's newest night spot, "Rendezvous." Currently featured there are the dancing Merry twins, appearing after a year's absence from the Great White Way while on a personal appearance tour across South America with Glazer's Glitter Girls, and Howard Wiard's famed rhumba orchestra . . . Don Accurso is shining at the piano, of course.

Results of the National Shoe Selling Contest were announced this morning, and the new super salesman, selling 148,500,007 pairs of ration-free shoes, was Bill Forsythe . . . Read where Richard Radford, B.S., Ph.D., R.F.D., has recently been appointed to the position of Dean at Vassar.

After listening to "Hartman's Happy Home Hour" at noon, decided to dash over to Jo & Pat's Hamburger Joint . . . J. Beamer and P. Billings are the proprietors . . . Drop in any time (plug) . . . Overheard that Missouri's senator, Dorothy Pemberton, is still trying to pass a bill to install escalators in all public grade schools.

"How to Be a Bookworm," Joan Wilson's latest book, is taking the country by storm . . . Her publisher, James Otto Smith, believes it will sell more copies than any book yet to be written.

Oh, yes, "Carswell's Crunchy Crackers" is sponsoring a new radio show, "Am I Lovable?" The star of the show is the handsome (remember, I get paid for this!) screen star, Les Levin . . . He is now starring in "The Handsome Ghoul," a Bonnie Richards production.

Wayne Wright was caught selling "bobby socks" in front of Criger's Beanery . . . When Judge "Irish" Kellner found that the majority of customers were fans of that swoon crooner, Dick Rollert, he hurriedly dismissed the case to rush out and buy a pair for himself.

A statement from Washington today reported that Ralph B. Burbridge will soon be promoted to Admiral of the United States Navy . . . Ancely Hammer has been proclaimed the "Girl With the Baking Soda Smile." Runner-up in the contest was Seabiscuit . . . Congratulations, Ancely!

While I'm thinking about it, I'd better remind all you readers (?) not to forget to attend the Yellow Gloves finals tonight at Westlake Square Garden, where at that time "Sambo the Killer," better known as Stew Schreiber, will defend his title from Bill "Atlas" Sidebotham . . . As for the outcome, well—your guess is as good as mine.

We think that "Esquire" is really taking a beating this spring, as we just discovered that Bill Kamm and Bev Logan are co-editors in the new enterprise . . . Taking the Varga girl's place is Roy Hanks . . . the poor girl's pin-up boy.

We just got wind that free fish will be given to all who attend the opening of Fish's Fishery . . . Shirley Yancey, that great dramatic stage artiste, will be the guest of honor.

Stopped in at the ritzy "44" Club last night, and under the ringside table, who was to be seen but play boy Bob Carlson . . . Vainly, he was trying to catch the eye of the cigarette girl, Jackie Pryor . . . When interviewed, she unconcernedly informed us that her largest tip was a $50 bill . . . coming, incidentally, from Jerome Weinshank . . . Now we're wondering where he got $50—or maybe he's still waiting for the change . . . Bud Heaven and Mary Fey were happily planning their future on the tablecloth, much to the disgust of Head Waiter Jack McGovney.

Dick Hartzler has recently taken over a very responsible job, since he has recently been elected president of the Women's Home Defense Corps.

Martha Abend . . . ace woman flier, bagged another "Jerry" not long ago . . . (who said this was a man's world?) . . . Also rumored is the replacement of Helen Alcock to Stephen Early as secretary to Roos—I mean, the President.

Saw a lot of alumni last night at Orth, Ketchum & Snow's Super Circus, playing its last night out by Monkey's . . . The troupe's new lady fire eater was Gail Smith . . . Also, an outstanding demonstration was given by the snake charmer, who, we found out later, was Saranne MacCormack . . . Saw Kenny Bartlett crawling around forking up stray pieces of paper . . . Millionaire Leo Whinery, surrounded by several luscious li'l de'icers, who, on second glance, turned out to be Eileen McGinnis, Irene Duvall and Bobbie McNees . . . Looked like Dot Oelschlaeger was very happy with her job of collecting tickets on the Merry-Go-Round.

Plane service is really terrible nowadays . . . Took me 8 hours to fly from Los Angeles back here to K. C. . . . Ran down to Hollywood while there and ran into Louise Offinier, that gorgeous movie star, with her director, producer and actor, Gordon Whitacre . . . The Lux program has been taken over by Chuck Brooks, with Vera Bengert as sound effects girl.

Well, back to Kansas City . . . and we find that Tagtmeyer's Drug Shoppe has been taken over by Kenny Smith and Ed Fenimore . . . Head soda jerk is Helen Rogers.

Wandered out to Swope yesterday afternoon . . . Betty DeArmond, manager of the concessions stands . . . Marvin Smart goes out every day to feed the squirrels . . . Chief patron of the bear pits is Jackie Lansdowne . . . Found Kenny Bartlett and B. J. McLaughlin standing fascinated in front of the monkey cages . . . Brenner's still a nerv-out wreck, and she's now living in a little hut at the southwest corner of the park . . . just to get away from it all . . . Watched Dick Phelan cleaning out the swimming pool.

Visited Central High and discovered Principal Bill Haynie having a cozy little chat over in the corner with Spanish teacher Eve Lewis . . . A little farther down the hall, with his head stuck in a physiology book, we saw Bob Huddleston . . . cramming for his mid-year finals, we presumed . . . Watched spring play rehearsal . . . You knew that Josephine Kleiman was the speech director, didn't you? . . . Found out that writer Helen Woltkamp is flying in from the coast with her press agent, Jim D. Petersen, next week to review her latest book.

Shirley Crain and Bob Peters have moved their wax works headquarters down to New Mexico to get a new start . . . Ran into Dale Eriksen, silver tongued politician, out on a two-hour afternoon tour kissing babies.

Attended a lovely wedding last Monday afternoon at the Little Church Around the Corner (We can't remember which corner it's around, though!) . . . Never saw a more contented couple than bride Martha Black and new husband, David Miller . . . Betty Klapis sang, accompanied by pianist Marie Vogliardo . . . After the ceremony refreshments were sold by Virginia Davee and Allan Bartlett . . . 10% of the profit went to the bride . . . Ann Bishopberger caught the bride's bouquet . . . Wonder if that means she and Al Wilcox will soon be hearing wedding bells . . .

Dorothy Silverman's still trying to organize a new fraternity out at K. C. U. . . .

Well, it's time to go to press, so I'll let you readers go . . .
